PENN DRUBS WILLAMETTE

Convive Baseball Tossers Win Two Straight From University Team.

The memorable 16-inning victory of Willamette University over the Penn-tentary team on April 18 made the annual spring series between those two old rivals for baseball honors a tie. Dr. Sweetland again brought his ball tossers out to the pen on Saturday with the firm purpose of taking the rubber. Unfortunately for him the Pen team had sharpened up their batting eyes with the result that when the ball rang for supper the pen boys not only had the rubber but the Willamette goat as well. The rubber was a nine-inning game, 11 to 7 in favor of the Pen, while the goat was a five-inning affair which the Pen tucked away to the tune of 7 to 2. Johnson pitched for the Pen in the first game and retired in the seventh inning with the score 11 to 2 in his favor. Griggs, the Pen's star pitcher, seemed to pitch with泰山 in the receiving end. In the ninth Griggs let up and with a couple of errors behind him allowed Willamette to pile up five runs. It was a swat fest from the Pen side for the first time this season. Kemp, the diminutive second baseman for the Pen, played the bag in regular major league fashion. In the second game the Pen's famous old Indian Chief assailed to pitch for the first time in three years. The result proved that handling brick is a powerful stimulant for a pitching arm, as Chief allowed but two hits. In this game Griggs whaled the ball for a home run while his comrades were not far behind him in hitting ability. From a spectacular point of view the games played on Saturday did not compare to the splendid 16-inning affair of the week before. Adams, who proved so effective in that game, was easy for the Pen on Saturday. Honnan, for Willamette, played his usual splendid game at second base and used his bat with telling effect. The Pen boys are hoping for another game with the Seals high school and one with Chemawa.

Will Use Young Twirlers in Coming Series to Rest His Old Men.

COLD WEATHER IN NORTH MAKES GAMES TOO SLOW

Los Angeles Team Gets More Than Even Break on Luck in Last Series.

Portland, Ore., April 27.—After another bad week during which three out of the five games played were taken by the Venetians, Manager McCredie of the Portland Coast league club is considering using his three young pitchers, Martinoni, Erambach and Hanson, against the Seals in the series that opens here tomorrow, and give the old twirlers a rest. There was no game Sunday, rain interfering.

Last week's play was characterized by numerous boots and weird base running by the Beavers. On the other hand Venice played in mid-season form and hit like demons. Another snag in Portland's way was the pitching of the Hogan crew. On Thursday Doc White held them to three hits, and but four were secured off Fleharty Saturday.

The players are complaining bitterly about the weather in Portland. Scarcely a day has the sun shown since the Coast league season opened, and the cold has made the play rather slow and uninteresting.

A new record for home runs on the Portland grounds was scored.

McCredie is still looking for pitchers, but his quest has been fruitless.

The Angles and the Tigers hook up here this week. The first game will be played Wednesday, as the Venice players will not arrive in Portland early enough to get under way tomorrow.

Angel fans are sighing with relief today, for their crippled pets, aided by rain, horseshoe luck and surprise pitching by a high school kid, are recuperating today from the exertions of taking an abbreviated series from Sacramento. Rain prevented two games and gave the Los Angeles cripples time to rest between.

Both squads showed woefully weak throughout the series. The Los Angeles pitchers did poor work, the saving performance being the registering of a win by Howard Ehmke, a 17-year-old boy Dillon plucked from the Glendale high school. The Angel infield still is shot full of holes, although some of the regulars are getting back into shape.

Sacramento was a disappointment from every angle. While the pitching was fair, the fielding was rotten. Young was the worst offender throughout the week, his aim toward first base being on a par with that of the average Mexican peon. He was saved several additional errors through the leniency of the official scorer.

MAY LOSE TAX MONEY

DISPUTE OVER OWNERSHIP OF S. P. TIMBERLAND DELAYS COLLECTION OF $10,000.

Because the title to approximately 35,000 acres of Southern Pacific timber land in Marion county is held up in the supreme court on account of a dispute as to ownership the county will probably lose $10,000 in taxes, according to George Paulus, tax collector for Marion county. The Southern Pacific has been paying taxes on this timber land for years, under the impression that it held legal title to the properties. Recently the manner in which the land was acquired was brought in court, and it is a question whether or not the timber land is railroad or government property. The matter is pending in the supreme court and in the meantime the company is not paying the taxes on their holdings this year.

Should the supreme court decide that the timberland belongs to the government, the county will lose large sums in taxes. This loss, however, would be compensated for by the fact that thousands of acres would be thrown open to the settler and thereby improved and made more valuable, which would yield in the end better returns than under the present ownership. Not only in Marion county is this the situation, but also all along the Southern Pacific lines in Oregon.

There is a total sum of $996,807.44 in taxes to be collected in Marion county, and so far $860,000 has been received. George Paulus made another tax turn-over this morning in the sum of $103,993.32. This is the next largest turnover made this year. The largest was $118,766.79. Of the turnover today Salem receives $25,345.65, Silverton $1,229.81, and Woodburn $1,071.10.
